OUR POLICIES

A New Charter

Currently, the charter, while acceptable, has numerous flaws which make it difficult to understand and reference. By updating it, we have the opportunity to make it more accessible for all.

New Electoral Legislation

The current electoral legislation is extremely difficult to follow, which has led to a lot of confusion. By writing new legislation, we ensure that future elections will be conducted properly.

Slimmer Cabinet

Currently the Cabinet has 13 positions, quite a few of which overlap, making it difficult to assign tasks.

Inter-organisational comms

If we communicate with other organisations, it means we can improve the Alliance's outwards image, along with the public image of its member states.

Organisation of legislation

Currently, finding legislation passed by the Assembly is difficult, making it hard to reference. By reorganising legislation, through a revitalisation of the CRC, or through another mean, we can make the entire Parliament run more smoothly.

Expanding the CAoNI program

The CAoNI program has seen no activity. This has been found to be due to many nations having a lack of natural areas. If the CAoNI program is expanded to areas of national and cultural heritage, we can regain activity and bring interest to cultural heritage.

Games night

Games night has proven itself to be very popular. It encourages interaction between members and allows them to blow off a little steam. By having a regular commitment to the event, we can help ease stress and tension for members.
